

WHAT IS CLAIMED IS:

1. A shelter configured to positioned on a supporting surface for covering a golfer comprising:
 - a plurality of vertical support members;
 - a truss structure connecting the vertical support members;
 - a canopy overlying the truss structure; and
 - wherein the shelter is configured so that the distance from the supporting surface to a lowermost point on the truss structure is at least ten feet six inches.